AVOCADO

Cold hardy & grafted

Our trees have been grafted at a young age and allows the trees to produce as early as the first or second year from when the trees are planted. The root stock is also better suited for Florida soils.

Avocado trees do not tolerate flooding or poorly drained soils but are adapted to many types of well-drained soils.

There are 3 major groups of avocado cultivars: Mexican (small fruits), Guatemalan (small long fruits, mid-season & Late varieties) & West Indian (big South Fla green fruits. Most early variety). Hybrids between Guatemalan & West Indians are also common.

Care Guide, Availability & Prices available on our website!
